Maggie Wright originally studied interior design, floristry and Cordon Bleu cooking, but has now been involved in rubber stamping for over twelve years, having run her own craft company. She recently organised a trip to California for twenty rubber stamp addicts to see stamps being manufactured, take part in workshops and see an American Stamp Show. Maggie takes an active part in coordinating with American stamp manufacturers as to what designs and wordings would be accepted by stampers in the UK. Maggie lives in East Grinstead, West Sussex.

This book is chock-a-block full of great ideas for card making. I am finding I am using almost daily in my card projects. It is easy to follow with good directions and beautifully illustrated photos. Great purchase for beginners and even more skilled card makers.

Great ideas

An older book but still full of good ideas and inspiration. Great price.

Good book, very helpful for newbies...

Has many ideas and tells many techniques. Has helped with many of my projects. I would recommend this book to anyone working with rubber stamps.

I am just getting into card making at home. I had hoped this book would really help but it isn't that great.

love it . Very sharp and strong product. It was my first kind of cutting product for food and I am very impressed. I've had it for a few months now and its sharpness is still the best of all the knives I have. delivery on time receive it next day . Received as described. as a gift to Tommy,
