Johnson Faa Yan is from the town in China where Chu Hsi, the Sung Dynasty I Ching scholar, lectured and meditated. After receiving his PhD from Kent State University, Dr. Yan did post-doctoral research on computational chemistry of biopolymers at Cornell University. His current interest is, of course, the interpretation of DNA and protein sequences.

Extremely interesting reading.

I've had this book for years and would recommend it to anyone who studies I Ching! It would be nice to see a new and expanded version of this sacred text!

Book looks good and arrived in a short amount of time.
