What Little Boys Are Made Of: Loving Who They Are And Who They Will Become

Synopsis

Mischief dons blue jeans and totes a fishing pole in Jim Daly's Americana artwork featured throughout this unforgettable exploration of boyhood. Sweet writings express virtues gathered like treasures along a boy's journey to becoming a man in this gift for sons, fathers, and anyone in love with a boy, little or big, who dreams of lazy days with bullfrogs and buddies.

A native of Oklahoma, Jim Daly studied art at the Art Center College of Design in Los Angeles. His paintings are represented in permanent collections of museums and historical societies and in many private and corporate collections. Daly has also received numerous awards for his artwork, including the People's Choice Award at the Western Rendezvous of Art. His work is featured in the books What Little Boys Are Made Of; Grandma, Do You Remember When?; My Loyal Friend; and Let's Play Ball.

This is a charming little book with endearing pictures and prose that makes a wonderful baby gift for an expectant mother. She can look forward to what to expect of her little man and Daddy can look back on his boyhood days. I also have 'What Little Girls Are Made Of' which is totally girly and reveals the beauty and wisdom of the world little girls live in.

wonderful book - fast shipping

Very cute book

A beautiful keep sake Christening Day gift!

My son and daughter in law have their first child, a son. Since I raised two boys I thought these would be inspirational for my DIL as a mother's day gift.

Good

Adorable! I love it as mommy to a little boy!

This is the perfect gift for someone expecting a baby boy or actually anyone with a boy, no matter what age. The pictures are beautiful and the words delightful.. It made me cry and my boys are 41 and 43 years old!
