Steeped in history, yet looking firmly to the future, Riga is the liveliest of the Baltic cities. Authors Chris Patrick and Stephen Baister show you the many sides to this cosmopolitan capital, from walk-in concerts to a thriving cafe culture. Visit a market fashioned from zeppelin hangars, explore the cobbled streets of the historic Old Town, then savor a Black Balsam at one of the city's numerous bars as you ponder where to enjoy the perfect meal. This is the essential guide for those wanting to get under the skin of Latvia's increasingly popular capital, whether for a flying visit or a longer immersion in its richly varied attractions. Inside you will find: Hotels, restaurants, cafes, bars, clubs Riga's colorful history and art nouveau architecture Shopping, from amber stalls to modern malls Cultural highlights, from museums to opera Day trips beyond the city Color city and tram maps

Stephen Baister and Chris Patrick are authors of Latvia: The Bradt Travel Guide and coauthors of Baltic Capitals. Stephen has a background in legal representation of clients with interests in eastern Europe. Chris works in international research and consultancy; she has assisted a number of organizations from eastern Europe.

The guide is quite useful and instructive in featuring the highlights. So easy to carry.

Fairly useful but not comprehensive guide to city of Riga.

This was exactly what I wanted a convenient, concentrated small guide book for a short stay in a capitol with walking tour and some information on dining and hotels.

The book I purchased was delivered to my house in great condition. It was if I had just bought the book at a book store.
