

The book was found

1-2-3 Va-Va-Vroom!

Synopsis

Lap One! Checkered flag. Seatbelt strapped! Helmet snapped! Screeching down the lane! Three kids imagine themselves driving on a racetrack in superfast cars. They zoom around 10 laps, counting toward the finish. Along the way, they Smash! Crash! and Splash! . . . until they scream down the lanes for their final lap. Who will reach the finish line first? The rhyming text and bright digital illustrations bring to life this exciting race. Get in your car, and let's race!
Va-va-vroom!

Book Information

Age Range: 3 - 6 years

Lexile Measure: 310 (What's this?)

Hardcover: 32 pages

Publisher: Two Lions (September 18, 2012)

Language: English

ISBN-10: 0761461620

ISBN-13: 978-0761461623

Product Dimensions: 9.8 x 0.4 x 9.8 inches

Shipping Weight: 1 pounds (View shipping rates and policies)

Average Customer Review: 3.9 out of 5 stars 62 customer reviews

Best Sellers Rank: #1,253,245 in Books (See Top 100 in Books) #77 in Books > Children's Books > Sports & Outdoors > Motor Sports #1138 in Books > Children's Books > Early Learning > Basic Concepts > Counting #30754 in Books > Children's Books > Education & Reference

Customer Reviews

"Let's race!" Three toddlers place their toy cars on a rug filled with blocks and traditional games and they're off on an imagined 10 laps of checkered-flag excitement. One by one, each vehicle moves to the front and swerves around the corners, passing other cars in white-knuckled near-misses, "catching air" with flips and tipping cars. Flat-tire stops at the pit, speedy fixes, "swooshing" flags, confetti, and a cheering crowd all make an appearance, while squealing tires and the "Va-Va-Vroom!" of each page-turn lap transforms to the "Ba-ba-boom" of the winner's celebration fireworks. Digitally created with sweetly cartooned cheer, each young driver, strapped in by a seatbelt and garbed in an animal-inspired helmet, whirls in a brightly striped car through clearly numbered laps viewed through the windshield, along the curves, or from high in the spectator stands. A preschool natural for energetic little ones with cars at the ready, this brief book visually races through counting and action words. — Mary Elam, Learning Media Services, Plano ISD, TX, February 2013

Sarah Lynn has three young sons taught her how to race toy cars. Together they've used their imaginations to create roads everywhere (couch, kitchen floor, dirt, sand, rug, and the bathtub, just for starters.) The idea for 1-2-3 Va-Va-Vroom! came to Sarah when she was teaching her oldest son to write numbers. They began imagining the pencil as a car drawing its own track. Those vroom-vroom sounds made writing numbers so much more fun. Sarah is also the author of Tip-Tap Pop, illustrated by Valeria Docampo. She lives with her family in Camarillo, California. Visit her online: www.sarahlynnbooks.com Daniel Griffo became a self-taught comic illustrator in his teens and worked for both Argentinean and Italian publishers. He went on to create licensed artwork for various studios, which sharpened his skills. As a freelance illustrator, Daniel has worked for many large companies including Image Comics, Warner Bros. Entertainment, DC Comics, and Disney. Daniel's most recent children's book is Hello, Bicycle!, written by Ella Boyd. He lives in La Plata, Argentina, with his wife, Elba; his son, Benjamin; and their two pets, Indiana and Jones. Visit him online: www.danielgriffo.net

A counting book told with rhymes that has three children playing with toy cars and they are racing. I like that the children are boys and girls. There is a lot of action in the pictures and kids who like car books will enjoy this one.

Endearing illustrations light up the racetrack as the cars go around 1, 2, 3 ... 10 times, va-va-vroom! Will they skid, will they slide, will they crash? Into the pit for a tire change, who will win? Three to four year olds will probably enjoy this, it was too simplistic for my five year old nephew. Of note, the only things we found to count were the three cars in the race and the ten laps. (In all fairness though, we were reading it with the Kindle app on my iPad, so we may have missed some true Kindle features.) Overall a very cute book.

I put this on my kindle fire for my grandson, age 2 and he will attend throughout and asks to repeat it. He is quite a busy boy and will not sit still for a book unless it interests him. I am glad I purchased this selection. Helps when stuck in traffic, at doctor's office, etc.

Terrific book for kids who enjoy watching car racing with their folks. Charming pictures with kids as fearless drivers and SURPRISE - the girl wins the race! But everyone is a good sport and the kids cheerfully prepare for another race (and wonder who will win next time). A great example of enthusiastic play and good sportsmanship, with a little counting practice slipped in as part of the fun. A great Christmas gift for the preschool and kindergarten crowd!

This was a cute book for my 3 yr old toddler. He really enjoyed it and likes reading it over & over.

My son LOVES this book! Looks great in digital format. Vivid colors and repetitive theme.

Very nice counting book. My son liked it. I am glad the girl one the race! Wish it had a little more of a story, although I know it was a counting book. That's just what we like.

Cute story for preschool age

Download to continue reading...

Vroom, Vroom, Trucks! (Karen Katz Lift-the-Flap Books) Formula One Race Cars on the Move (Lightning Bolt Books) • Vroom-Vroom) 1-2-3 Va-Va-Vroom! Uncle John's Bathroom Reader Vroom!

Contact Us

DMCA

Privacy

FAQ & Help